ANTI-SALOON
LEAGUE BUSY
DURING WEEKDoctor Wadman Says Organization Will Fight Against Pleasanton Petition

During the past week the office of the Anti-Saloon League 510 Stran-wald building, has been the scene of unusual activity. Great stacks of Sunday school literature have arrived by coast steamers for distribution among the Sunday schools planning to observe the second Sunday in November as Temperance Day. Translators are busy clothing these programs in such linguistic dress as will be suitable for use in Japanese, Chinese, Filipino, Portuguese, Korean as well as English-speaking schools scattered all over the territory.

On Thursday the Board of License Commission met and the proprietor of the Pleasanton Hotel filed his petition for permission to open a bar with all the special privileges attached thereto.

The league, says Dr. John W. Wadman, believes with every reason that it means to fight this petition with all the force it may be able to summon and will not abandon the field of battle until all means possible to defeat the proposition have been used.

The superintendent, upon invitation of the pastor, Rev. H. H. Parker, addressed the congregation of Kawaiahoo church tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock on "New Issues in Honolulu, a Call to Arms."

Dr. Wadman, among many others, is glad to welcome back Rev. Henry P.
Judd, superintendent of Sunday schools, who returned on the Manoa last Tuesday morning. Messrs. Judd and Wadman again plan to pursue their educational campaign among the children and others along lines as previously followed and expect to leave for the Garden Island October 20 on a tour of the churches and schools.

MIDWEEK STUDY
FOR CHRISTIAN
CHURCH PROGRAM

So many new members have come into the church during the past year who are naturally unfamiliar with the genius and progress of this body of people calling themselves simply Christians that a course of study has been arranged for the rest of this year dealing with elemental things in the church life. These studies will consist of short addresses given by various individuals on Wednesday evening of each week. The first one of these studies will be given next week. Below is given a list of topics and the speakers:

October 14.—The Religious Status of the Opening of the 19th Century.—David C. Peters.

October 21.—Thomas Campbell, the Prime Mover.—W. A. Ramsay.

October 28.—The Origin of the Restoration Movement.—F. L. James.

November 4.—Some Guiding Principles.—G. H. Tuttle.

November 11.—Alexander Campbell, the Chief Actor.—W. G. Hall.

November 18.—The Guiding Principles in Application.—Miss Higgins.

November 25.—A Christo-centric Movement.—J. H. Bowman.

December 2.—Walker Scott and the New Evangelism.—Alice L. Hopper.

December 9.—Isaac Errett and Spiritual Freedom.—F. H. McNamara.

December 16.—Barton W. Stone, and a Contributory Movement.—W. A.
Rasmussen.

December 23.—Growth in Organization.—Mrs. W. C. Eedon.

December 30.—The World Scope and a Vision.—Mrs. S. C. Goodnight.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVORERS
OF C. U. TO HEAR BIBLE
READING BY A. F. COOKE

The Christian Endeavor Society of Central Union church is fortunate in having secured the promise of A.
Frank Cooke to give a Bible reading Sunday evening at the usual hour, 8:30 o'clock. Mr. Cooke has chosen for his subject "The Christian's Obedience—From Fear or From Love?" and will illustrate his theme with passages from the Old and New Testaments. All young people are cordially invited to be present.

"Sleeping Dogs in Strange Kennels"

A TEMPERANCE SERMON
By Dr. John W. Wadman:

A good many years ago, in a Canadian city, I formed a close friendship with a man a little older than myself of a peculiarly strong and vital character. He was of that type of men who lead others and bring things to pass. At the present day, he would have been naturally chosen as the president of an Ad Club or the director-general of a carnival.
He was not a church member nor a professing Christian. One Sunday evening he was good enough to attend a religious service where the writer gave an address to an audience of young men on the subject which forms the caption of this article, taking as a text 2 Kings 8:13, "Is thy servant a dog that he should do such a thing?" He afterwards walked home with me and in the quiet of my room told me that in the younger days of his manhood he had for a period succumbed to the fascination of strong drink, by reason of which his friends had grown greatly alarmed and that he himself had become frightened and had sworn off entirely, "being the only sure way of safety," he remarked, and for years had not touched a drop of liquor.

In the gentlest manner possible, I again referred to the sleeping dogs of passion in the strange kennels of a man's life and setting upon all the privileges of a very warm friendship pointed out to him the fact that these old appetites and lusts are by no means dead. They are only sleeping and some day in an unguarded moment when perhaps overworked or unusually worried, or in poor health, or in sorrow, one might easily become a prey to their re-awakened passion and insatiable greed. My ardent wish was to show him the necessity of fortifying himself against any future contingency wherein his own will power and strength of character might prove insufficient.

I had thought he was deeply moved by my argument and appeal but I failed to rouse him to any different line of action. He had money and influence, a beautiful wife, one lovely child and a charming home.

That was just two decades and a half ago. How quickly the years slip by! There lies before me as I now write a letter written by his wife to another intimate mutual friend, the letter of a poor broken-hearted and distracted woman whose many years of a truly happy married life, had been poured out in a great devotion to the husband whom she fairly idolized.

TOMORROW THIRD ANNIVERSARY OF DEDICATION OF NEW 'Y' BUILDINGSpecial Services to Be Held in Memory of Occasion—R. H.
Trent Will Speak

Tomorrow will be the third anniversary of the dedication of the Y. M.
C. A. building. The occasion will be celebrated by a meeting in Cooke Hall at 4:30 o'clock. President R. H.
Trent will preside and tell something about the efforts of the committee which secured the funds for the building. Mr. Trent was president of the association at the time and was a member of the committee of five which secured the money.

The other speakers will be George P. Castle, who will tell of his impressions of the building from the point of view of a contributor to the fund, while A. L. Mackaye, W. C.
Furer and R. E. Lambert will tell of what they know the building is doing for the young men and boys of the city.

gers in the city being especially invited to attend.

FIRST METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCHFirst Methodist Episcopal Church corner Beretania avenue and Victoria street.

At the morning service, 11 a. m., Rev. Henry P. Judd, who has just returned from an extended visit in the States, will occupy the pulpit. While away Mr. Judd attended a great Sun-

The sleeping dog had at last awakened. The awful passion had at last seized him. She writes with many tear-blots upon the page: "We had gone to L. for a visit with Gertrude and her husband. For a year or so Tom has, as you know, been under an awful strain. His losses came so rapidly. He dreaded an old age of poverty. He missed, too, the friends of former years. We had been a week in L., having a fairly pleasant visit, when one morning the home papers brought us the sad tidings of Company's failure, in which poor Tom had a few of his last shares, representing the only savings he had left. This evidently was the finishing blow. Within one hour he and Gertrude's husband, Ted, who has always been a moderate drinker, were drunk to illness, and they quarreled till blows were struck. The beautiful home became a rough house and now I wonder where it will end. A month has passed. It grows worse. Husband refuses to return home. Gertrude clings to me. Ted drinks daily to excess and Tom is threatened, so the doctor says, with delirium tremens." I shall not quote further this poor, dear woman's letter. The expressions of her overpowering grief and despair are too sacred.

But how true it is that the dogs of appetite sleep for a period in the strange kennels of a man's soul and then wake to whine and growl, hungry and vicious, pulling with all their maddened might and main upon the chains with which they have been bound until the iron links are under the poor victim is seized by the throat, overcome and devoured.

There is no sleeping dog more liable to awake in a man's soul in later years with terrible uncontrollable passion and power than that of strong drink. Hence, "for the sake of the boys," in order to save them from the danger of the first drink, in order to bat forever the sleeping dog of appetite from entering the domain of their sweet young lives, universal efforts are now being made for the overthrow of old King Alcohol and the entire removal of the evils of strong drink.

"We shall wake on some glad morning
And see old glory
Over a great, saloonless country."

Where is found no drunkard's grave.
Day is breaking! God is leading!
Our republic He will save!
His truth is marching on.

—Honolulu, T. H., October 17.

An attractive musical program has been provided for the meeting. Prof.
L. A. De Gracia will lead the orchestra, which will give several numbers.
The other members of the orchestra are H. S. Decker, first violin; Nathaniel Nottage, second violin; Sven Larsen, flute, and Mr. Hurlburt, cornet.

In addition to the orchestra music, Professor De Gracia will give a cello solo. The singing will be led by General Secretary Paul Super.

The new building has, since its dedication three years ago, been the pride of Honolulu. It cost a total of $240,000, and is considered the finest Y. M. C. A. building in the world for a city the size of Honolulu. The building is not merely a pile of stone as are so many public buildings, but a beehive of activity from morning until night. From 700 members to a total of 1431 shows the increase in the work carried on during the past three years.

TEACHERS WILL
GO TO SCHOOL
AT C. U. CHURCH

The Teacher Training class of the Central Union church Bible school, which has proved so valuable for the past two years, will open again October 18 under the leadership of Charles T. Pitts, principal of Punahou preparatory school. The class sessions will be held at 9 o'clock in the church parlor and all who are interested in the normal work of the Bible school are cordially invited to attend.

This class is designed not only for those who wish to learn how to teach, but for those who are already teaching and wish to freshen up on "methods" or to gain new inspiration to pass on to their classes. Members of other Bible schools are also invited to this class if no such organization exists in their home school. Since the class is held at this hour it will not interfere with the regular Sunday school hour of Central Union or of the other schools of the city.

The first meeting will be for organization and it is hoped that a large number will be present to take up the work of the year. Mr. Pitts is a most successful teacher and it is a real opportunity to study with him.

KALIHU UNION CHURCH
DOING GREATER WORK
IN ITS NEW LOCATION

Kalihu Union church, since its removal to the new site, is showing a marked increase in all its activities and the cooking and sewing classes are better attended than ever before.
The fullest club activity ever experienced by this institution is now in full swing, there being senior, junior, young men, girls' and midget clubs all having large attendance and enthusiastic meetings.

The Ladies Aid Society of the church has well attended and interesting gatherings, so much so that at their last meeting the members decided to have semi-monthly instead of monthly meetings. The Bible School, Christian Endeavor Societies, as well as the regular church services show increase in attendance and life. The young men's brotherhood is soon to complete its organization and fill a need in the church life. Under the expert leadership of Francis Leigh the monthly, special musical service will be given.

WOMEN OF CENTRAL
UNION PROVE TO BE GOOD HOSTESSES

The Thursday evening social of the Women's Society of the Central Union church was unusually successful, not only in the splendid musical and literary program presented and the dainty refreshments served, but also in the genuine sociability which marked the evening. A rather larger proportion of men than are usually found at these gatherings appeared, perhaps induced by the "War Talk" which proved so interesting to all present.
The decorations were elaborate

SPECIAL SERMON
AND MUSIC WILL FEATURE SERVICEFletcher S. Brockman to Be Speaker and Quartet Will Sing at Central Union

Fletcher S. Brockman, secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association of China, who arrived in Honolulu Thursday on the Manoa, en route to the mainland for a brief vacation, will be the speaker in Central Union church tomorrow at the morning services, which begin at 11 o'clock. Mr. Brockman will speak on the subject "Reconstruction of the Chinese Republic." Mr.
Brockman plans to remain in Honolulu a week.

The church quartet, composed of Mrs. C. L. Hall, Mrs. C. S. Weight, T.
L. Bolton and L. G. French, will sing Merston's "I'm But a Stranger Here," and there will be a special offertory selection.

The gospel sermons which have proved so vital and inspiring at the informal Sunday evening services which Central Union church has been holding will be continued, with Rev.
David Cary Peters of the Christian church as speaker this Sunday. Mr.
Peters has chosen for his topic "Heroes of the Durable" and all those who have heard this incisive and forceful speaker will be anxious to find out what he has to say about these heroes who have "stayed with it." This original topic sounds as if it would lend itself well to his straightforward and picturesque diction. Mr. Peters is commonly spoken of as a "man's speaker," but since women are not slow to appreciate a direct and unflinching style, it is likely that a large audience of both men and women will greet him.

The "Young People's League," Rev.
Akaka Akana's congregation, will give the services of their splendid chorus choir for the evening service. Under the direction of Mr. King they have been preparing a splendid musical program which will greatly add to the enjoyment and helpfulness of the service. These evangelistic services are conducted in a much less formal style than the usual preaching service.
Music plays a large part in the order of exercises, not only in the choir de-lections but in the hymns, selected for the congregational singing, which are carefully chosen and are such as the audience is likely to know and to enjoy singing. A cordial invitation to attend these services is extended to all men, women and young people who have no other church home.
